

ing the morning hours, so that if even the majestic was not to be held, it would not come. All of the commercial exchanges in this city will close at noon to-morrow. The city and United States Courts will hold no sessions. The executive officers of all the Vanderbilt railroads will also close at noon.

Ceremonies at Columbus, O.
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 18.—Gov. Campbell has made all arrangements for the ceremonies here when the train bearing the body of Gen. Sherman arrives. The train will stop three-quarters of an hour in the depot, during which time the proper military salutes will be paid. The Fourteenth Infantry and six companies of the Seventeenth will follow on a special train to St. Louis, where they will join in the funeral escort.

Missouri State Officers.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 18.—Both the branches of the Assembly, the G. A. R. Posts and a large number of citizens here will attend the funeral of Gen. Sherman. Gov. Francis has made arrangements for special trains, Adjutant-General Wickham has ordered the State militia to assemble at the St. Louis Army.

Companies From Ft. Leavenworth.
KANSAAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 18.—Department Commander Collins of the G. A. R. of Kansas has issued General Order No. 11, ordering the department to attend the funeral of Gen. Sherman as a department.

A special from Leavenworth, Kan., says that the Kansas Commandery of the military order of the Loyal Legion will join the Missouri Commandery in its attendance upon the funeral.

Another special from Fort Leavenworth says that Company A, Twelfth Infantry, U. S. A., in command of Capt. H. G. Brown, and Company F, Thirteenth Infantry, in command of Capt. J. F. Forman, in compliance with Gen. Schofield's order, left for St. Louis last night. Five more companies will leave to-day, and they will all take part in Gen. Sherman's funeral. The old war horse, Comanche, 25 years old, will also be taken to St. Louis and will follow the hearse in the funeral procession, bearing a General's accoutrements.

Local Arrangements.
The display at the funeral of Gen. W. T. Sherman on Saturday next will be one of the most magnificent pageants ever seen in this country. The contingent of troops from neighboring States is much larger than had been expected, and the number of those who will participate in rendering the last honors to the departed soldier is being constantly increased. A letter has been received from the Adjutant General of the Ohio Militia, stating that the Fourteenth and six companies of the Seventh Infantry of the Ohio National Guards would take a special train from Cincinnati, to closely follow the funeral train, and at Indianapolis would be joined by the First Infantry.

THE CAMP AT THE ARSENAL.

THE MILITIA CONTINGENT.
The three regiments ask that a position in the parade be assigned them. Now Gen. Sherman's funeral is not yet known, but many militia organizations will be present. In addition to the local militia it is announced that the State troops expected to come to St. Louis to attend the funeral exercises of Gen. Sherman consist of one company of about sixty men each from the following places: Adams, Mo.; Hannibal, Mo.; Joseph, Mo.; Bethany, Mo.; Richmond, Mo.; Brookfield, Mo.; Carthage, Mo.; Nevada, Mo.; Joplin, Mo.; Springfield, Mo.; Peoria, Mo.; Sedalia, Mo.; one regiment of eight companies each from St. Louis, Mo.; one company from Kansas City, Mo.; and one battalion of 160 men from Columbia.

At the office of Department Commander Bassett notice has been given that the Grand Army posts, not only in this State, but in Illinois, Kansas and Iowa, announcing their intention of participating. The Sons of Veterans, the Department of Veterans, Illinois and Kansas will also be largely represented. From Leavenworth, Kan., will come a large number of the Kansas Commandery of the Loyal Legion and the Illinois Commandery will also be present in force. A large detachment of the Ohio Loyal Legion Commandery will join the funeral party at Cincinnati. It is not yet known how many will take part in the procession, but it is estimated that the regulars, the Grand Army, the militia and the Sons of Veterans will number about 7,000.

THE SONS OF VETERANS.
The Sons of Veterans will be an important element in the funeral services of Gen. Sherman, as the following order from H. H. Kilne, Colonel Missouri Division, will show.

St. JOSEPH, Mo., Feb. 14.
Special Order No. 14.
E. W. Raymond, Lieutenant-Colonel Missouri Division, S. of V., U. S. A., St. Louis, Mo.: The public prints announce that the remains of Gen. W. T. Sherman will be buried at St. Louis under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic. You will, therefore, take such steps as are necessary to secure the attendance of all camps of the Sons of Veterans in St. Louis and vicinity upon such public exercises as may be held at the time of the funeral. Use every effort to enlist the brothers in parade, and to have them in the great leaders who, aided by our fathers, made it possible for our order to exist. In case of a public parade you will assume command of all Sons of Veterans, and appoint such aids as you desire under command of Lieut. Hutchison, senior aid to the Colonel's staff. By order of H. H. Kilne, Colonel Missouri Division.

Attest: T. NEUDORFF.
In accordance with the above Col. Raymond has issued the following:
All visiting camps of Sons of Veterans will report to temporary headquarters, hall of Gen. John Pope Camp, Old-Followers' Hall, by 8 o'clock on the morning of the 21st. It is earnestly desired that a full attendance be on hand, and to that end a cordial invitation is extended to every division of Sons of Veterans in the United States to attend the funeral services of the late Gen. W. T. Sherman. Come, brothers, and assist us to make this the grandest demonstration of our order, and show that respect to the memory of the heroic dead for which we are organized.

The following has also been issued:
To Camp Captains:
First—In accordance with special order No. 14, Headquarters Missouri Division, command of the St. Louis S. of V., is hereby assumed.
Second—E. D. Williams is hereby appointed Acting Adjutant and will be charged with the duties of the office.
Third—You will at once issue such orders as to your judgment will secure a full attendance of your command on Saturday, Feb. 21, 1891, on the morning of the funeral parade of the late Gen. W. T. Sherman.

Fourth—The line of march will be announced through the daily Post-Dispatch.
Fifth—You will report on the morning of the 21st to Adjutant Williams at Grant monument at 9:30 a. m. Assembly will be at 10:15.
By order of E. W. RAYMOND, Lieutenant-Colonel Commanding.

The Sons of Veterans will form an important part of the parade which is to honor the great captain. Word has been received from Alton, Ill., that the parade will be held at that place. It is estimated that camps from those places would attend. Arkansas, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa will also send large delegations to participate in the exercises. Altogether it is estimated that there will not be less than 1,000 of S. of V. in line near St. Louis.

CONVOY IN TROUBLES.
James E. Yeatman received a telegram from Gen. H. W. Sproun stating that the party that would accompany the family will number sixty-five. Gen. John W. Noble will arrive in the city on Saturday morning and has engaged rooms at the Lindell. The railroad leading to the city has been established at a rate of one fare for the round trip; tickets good from Friday to Sunday inclusive, and thousands will attend. Already letters and telegrams have been received at the hotels engaging rooms, indicating a great influx. All organizations that desire to take part in the procession are requested to report either to Gen. Wesley Merritt, at his headquarters in the House building, or to Leo Rasseleur, Department Commander G. A. R., No. 404 Market street.

ADDITIONAL COMMITTEES APPOINTED.
At the meeting of the Executive Committee held yesterday John S. Mott, Thos. W. Booth and Charles G. Barney were named as a Committee on Carriages. W. M. Smith, J. G. Prather, P. P. Connor, T. Barnum, B. W. Clark, T. Schwartz, C. O. Dutcher, Thos. W. Booth, C. O. Hewitt, G. M. Flanagan, A. T. Harlow, Geo. Bain and Wm. Delaford were added to the Reception Committee. A Press Committee, consisting of Geo. E. Leighton, D. H. Armstrong and P. F. Sherman was appointed. The people generally, and especially those residing along the route of march, are requested to drop their houses. The Merchants' Exchange will be closed on the day of the funeral and a movement is on foot among the wholesale and retail merchants to secure a general suspension of business on Saturday next. At the meeting of the general committee it was decided that no floral offerings would be received. A committee of the general assembly will be appointed to place in the line of march, which will be furnished by the citizens of St. Louis. Please have your committee meet at the committee of the Merchants' Exchange, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, to arrange details.

At 10 o'clock to-morrow the General Committee will meet in the reading-room of the Merchants' Exchange to hear reports from the various sub-committees.

CIVIC PREPARATIONS.
The police have not yet been selected. The choice was left in the hands of James E. Yeatman and Henry Hitchcock and they will determine upon them within a short time. There is a general feeling of excitement and bells should be rung during the funeral and requests to this effect will be made. Directions have been given that the Pilgrim chimneys shall be kindled at 10 o'clock, and the grave, Frank Gallenine, manager of the Exposition, states that the interior of the Grand Music Hall is being decorated with flags and bunting.

At 8 o'clock on Thursday evening memorial services will take place. The meeting will be presided over by Henry A. Woodruff, Mayor of St. Louis. D. P. Dyer, Henry Hitchcock and D. R. Francis will deliver addresses.

A GRAND FOR THE GRAVE.
The following telegram was sent to-day to the Secretary of War:

Hon. Redford Proctor, Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.: The committee in charge of the arrangements for the funeral of Gen. Sherman request that you authorize Gen. Merritt to detail a guard at the grave of Gen. Sherman for such length of time as may be deemed best, and to the honor of the interest of Gen. Grant and President Garfield.

E. O. STARKES, Chairman.
Hon. Redford Proctor, Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.: The committee in charge of the arrangements for the funeral of Gen. Sherman request that you authorize Gen. Merritt to detail a guard at the grave of Gen. Sherman for such length of time as may be deemed best, and to the honor of the interest of Gen. Grant and President Garfield.

A Military Camp.
Preparations are being made at the Arsenal for sheltering about one thousand soldiers who are to come here from the West to participate in the obsequies of Gen. Sherman. They will camp out on the Arsenal grounds, and it will be the largest encampment of United States troops here since the war closed. Maj. Forsythe, who is in charge of the Arsenal, has been ordered to have the Arsenal grounds cleared of a half dozen tents to accommodate two companies of infantry, numbering about 100 men, who arrived from Fort Leavenworth, Kan., at 8 o'clock this afternoon. These companies were expected to reach here this morning, but were delayed. They came on in advance of the remainder of the troops to prepare camp for the other cavalry, infantry and artillery will all be represented in the troops that will be encamped at the Arsenal. Rows of tents will be extended back and across the Arsenal grounds, running parallel with Second street. Sibley tents will be used altogether, as they are best suited for winter, being large and roomy with space for a stove, and are arranged with a center pole, which has three iron springs spread out in a triangular shape at the bottom. The canvas is held down by the tent stakes, and the canvas can be fit over the open space at the top of the tent. A tent is 16 feet in diameter and will accommodate twenty infantrymen or twenty cavalrymen, and they are having more equipment and consequently need more room. At the center of the row of tents and running east from it at right angles will be a row of wooden barracks. The barracks will be stationed along the north side wall of the Arsenal grounds. They will be kept in position by means of pickets which are provided for the purpose of standing out and endure exposure to the weather. It was found impossible to accommodate the troops at the Arsenal, as the barracks are not large enough to hold the great number of men who are coming here. The barracks have been at the Arsenal since the war, and as they are very old and decayed it is expected that they will not suffer much from camping out here.

The troops which will be here will come from Fort Leavenworth, Kan.; Ft. Reno, Kan.; and Ft. Reno, T. They will arrive to-morrow and Friday. Besides the two companies of infantry of about 100 men who arrived from Ft. Leavenworth, a second detachment of about 200 men will be sent from the same fort. Two coaches and a baggage car were used in transporting the companies which got in to-day over the Missouri Pacific, and that road will furnish six coaches, one sleeper, two baggage cars, four stock cars and four flat cars for the second detachment of troops. The stock cars are for the cavalry horses and the flat cars for the cannons.

Six troops of cavalry and one light battery will arrive from Ft. Riley. The cavalry will be the Seventh Regiment under command of Gen. Forsyth. This regiment was at Wounded Knee during the recent Sioux troubles, and the unfortunate Capt. Wallace, who was killed there, was a member of the regiment. Capt. Capron will be in command of the battery which will come here from Ft. Leavenworth, and Col. Townsend is in general command of the troops, who came from Fort Leavenworth.

At 10 o'clock this morning Gen. Wesley Merritt and Maj. Leo Rasseleur, Department Commander G. A. R., held a conference at army headquarters. Maj. Rasseleur stated that he could not yet form an accurate estimate of how many men the Grand Army would have in line. Many posts had not been heard from, and announcements of the intentions of posts outside of the State to take part in the funeral were pouring in. Wisconsin will be represented, and a large number of members of the Grand Army of the Republic will attend from Illinois. Until it was known what posts could be assigned each its position, it would be impossible to assign each its position. The arrangements for the marching column could, therefore, not be completed until further information was received. The order of the march was not finally determined upon, but will probably be as follows: A platoon of mounted police will lead. The Twelfth Infantry Band will come next, followed by the battery of the Seventh Cavalry. In the rear of these will march the regular infantry; next will come the caisson, bearing the coffin and escorted by Kansas Post. The Grand Army Posts and Sons of Veterans will follow, next the carriage containing the family and distinguished guests, and the rear will be brought up by the militia. The cavalry and artillery will not enter the cemetery, and the artillery salute will be fired outside. Gen. Merritt, who has consented to act as Grand Marshal, will issue a general order to-morrow or next day giving full particulars as to the formation of the column.

THE REGULAR TROOPS.
Telegrams have been received at army headquarters stating the number of men that will be sent from different army posts. Company B, Twelfth Infantry, under the command of Capt. Hugh G. Brown, arrived in the city at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists of nine officers, 111 men and 116 horses. Col. Forsythe, who is in command of the cavalry, arrived at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The force consisted of six officers and ninety-six men. Four troops of the Seventh Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery left Fort Riley, Kan., at 10 o'clock this afternoon, with sixteen officers, 280 men, and 280 horses. The artillery force consists

PASSED THE SENATE.

The Newberry Bill Regulating the Charges of Express Companies.

SENATOR SPARK'S MEASURE TO INSURE PURITY IN POLITICAL ELECTIONS.

A New Cigarette Bill Introduced in the Senate and House—Report of the Special Committee on the St. Louis Inmate Asylum—Doings of the Missouri Legislature.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 18.—Senator Stone's bill adding the Judge of the Court of Criminal Correction to the board that chooses the Jury Commissioner in cities of over 100,000 inhabitants, was taken up and passed by the Senate this morning. Senator Stone made a short talk explaining it and although the Republicans voted against the bill there was no fight upon it. The Senate also passed Senator Newberry's bill to regulate the charges of express companies. The bill makes express companies common carriers and places them under the control of the Board of Railroad Commissioners.

Senator Eschscholtz introduced a bill to prohibit the sale of cigarettes and Parker introduced the same bill in the House. Senator Miller presented a petition for the passage of a bill to prevent the sale of liquor. The Senate passed a House bill making it a felony to publish scandalous newspapers. The bill is aimed against the Kansas City Sunday Star, a publication whose lurid rays have, during the past year, been causing many bonfires. Senator Sparks this morning introduced an iron-clad bill to insure purity in elections. It makes the man who gives a bribe guilty of a felony and liable to imprisonment in the penitentiary for from one to five years. It also provides that no candidate shall spend more than $100 in running for an office for which only 500 voters are entitled to vote. It allows him to squander $2 for each additional hundred up to 10,000, when he must cut his campaign expenses down to $1 a hundred addition up to 20,000 and after that at 50 cents a hundred. It also requires him to give in a sworn statement after election of the money he spent and what went with it.

The special committee appointed to investigate the St. Louis Inmate Asylum reported to the House this morning. The following is the substance of the report:

Your committee inspected the buildings thoroughly and made a careful investigation as to the conditions of the buildings and inmates. We found the patients comfortably clothed, kindly cared for and well, and economically fed. The wards are, however, overcrowded. There are more than 1,000 patients on the floor at night to accommodate the patients, and in some instances as many as sixteen occupy a bed. There are no separate wards provided for the colored patients and white and colored live, eat and sleep together. In the insane Asylum, 352 patients are crowded in wards intended for but little over half that number, while 493 are cared for in the Annex or Forenoon building, which is a 1,025 inmate kept at the expense of the city. We made diligent inquiry to determine if this appropriation was warranted and found that the maintenance of the entire number here cared for could not be located as residents of the city. None but the indigent are cared for here, and they are of two classes. First, the indigent insane residents of the city who were sent to the asylum after it had been established by the action of the authorities that the patient has no estate from which to pay for treatment at a private asylum, the other, and by the streets by the police on account of their insanity and taken to the "boiler" inspection bill, of which he is the father. This bill does not in its provision include St. Louis or Kansas City, which have satisfactory boiler inspection. There are several other boiler inspection bills before the two houses, but it is very doubtful if any of them will be passed, as the farmers seem to think that things are going on well enough as it is, and they are constitutionally opposed to creating a new office of any kind. "All the boilers I condemn in St. Louis," remarked Mr. McCallan, "are shipped right back into the State, and sold. There is no way it can be stopped, except by a State law, and it is a matter which the State should attend to."

BOILER INSPECTION.
Boiler Inspector McCallan of St. Louis is here looking after the "boiler" inspection bill, of which he is the father. This bill does not in its provision include St. Louis or Kansas City, which have satisfactory boiler inspection. There are several other boiler inspection bills before the two houses, but it is very doubtful if any of them will be passed, as the farmers seem to think that things are going on well enough as it is, and they are constitutionally opposed to creating a new office of any kind. "All the boilers I condemn in St. Louis," remarked Mr. McCallan, "are shipped right back into the State, and sold. There is no way it can be stopped, except by a State law, and it is a matter which the State should attend to."

FISH AND GAME PROTECTION.
All the sportsmen of the State are interested in the fish and game protection bill, which is pending in the two Houses. The Senate has passed a bill to re-enact the old fish law which prohibited sealing, and the House has passed a bill to amend the Code of Laws which does the same thing. The Hawkins game law has received a favorable report in the House and seems likely to pass. The bill provides that any person who kills or attempts to kill a prairie chicken, quail and pheasants, between the 1st day of February and the 1st day of August; quail and pheasants, between the 1st day of February and the 1st day of October; woodcock, between the 1st day of January and the 1st day of April; and the 1st day of September. It also makes it a misdemeanor to trap or net prairie chickens or quail at any time.

The House Committee on Internal Improvements met last evening, and, as usual, did nothing. The committee has made a reputation for itself by its inactivity. Yesterday it passed and then Hendrickson discovered that it gave the committee "until next Tuesday" to report.

Winter Wheat in Kansas.
TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 18.—Secretary Mohler of the State Board of Agriculture has received a report from the Kansas State Board of Agriculture of winter wheat. In fact, he says that it looks much better now than it has at any season for several years. The weather has been favorable, the ground is well supplied with moisture and the threatened damage from the Hessian fly has been averted. Mr. Mohler says that these excellent conditions are not peculiar to any particular part of the State, but that they are general. From recent indications there is every reason to believe that the crop of Kansas for 1891 will be an unusually large one.

Don't Cough.
Take Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. You will see the excellent effect after the first dose; and so at druggists.

Little Walter Busch Weber Dead.
The funeral of little Walter Busch Weber, the favorite grandchild of Mr. Adolphus Busch, was held this afternoon from the residence of his mother, Mrs. Adolphus Busch, at 2828 Indiana avenue. The little fellow died of croup in Chicago, while on a visit to his mother, now Mrs. Magnus, and his remains arrived here this morning.

Bridal Bulletin.
Name. Residence.
Edward L. S. Bays. 708 N. Jefferson av.
Maudie Carlsbach. 2804 N. Glasgow st.
J. G. Schmidt. 2622 Indiana av.
Barbara Vollmar. 2828 Lynn av.
James J. Welch. 3228 Armstrong av.
Agnes M. Kollstedt. 3228 Armstrong av.
Peter White. 3228 Armstrong av.
Ester F. Dukes. 3228 Armstrong av.

PURE 18-KT. GOLD WEDDING RINGS.
MEMPHIS & JACOBARD JEWELRY CO.,
COR. BROADWAY AND LOCUST ST.

SAVE MONEY AND BUY YOUR CARPETS NOW.

Mouquette Carpets,
Wilton Velvet Carpets,
Body Brussels Carpets,
Ingrain Carpets
and Portieres.

You will pay more if you wait.

Knaupp & Kramer,
615 and 617 N. Broadway,
Bet. Washington and Lucas
Avenues.

BAR'S.

We can't stop talking fashions for the weather. Nor bargains. When you can get dollar-fifty black mull for 97 cents you want to know it, weather or no weather. It's the hemstitched, and embroidered twelve and fifteen inches deep, all solid black, only five designs, only a few dozen pieces, 97 cents the yard.

The polka dot craze has reached the white mull skirting. A hemstitched border in solid black dotted in white or white with black spots. You only pay half dollar if you come to Barr's, considerably more if you go anywhere else—and serves you right.

What do you say to 4-button black suede gloves worth a dollar-quarter and 8-button tan mousquetaire at 85 cents? to-morrow at Barr's.

The balance of Frank Bros.' stock must go—children's hose worth half dollar for 12½c is almost as good as giving them to you. A lot of light-colored hose for children—nothing extra but then only a nickel a pair. Somewhere near a thousand pair of ladies' hose from Frank's stock will go to-morrow at 10c a pair. We are trying to close out all of the Frank stock of knitted wear. Ladies' jersey fitting ribbed vests, sleeveless, low neck, very nice goods, are going at 21 cents each.

The smile gets broader.

A PARLOR CAR TRAGEDY.

JOHN W. GRAETER'S INSANE MURDER OF TWO MEN.

He Shoots Down a New York Drummer and a St. Louis Pullman Conductor at Bald Knob, Ark., Without Provocation—A Frightful Scene.

BALD KNOB, ARK., Feb. 18.—John W. Graeter of Vincennes, Ind., a man either absolutely insane or suffering under some awful mental strain which for the time being destroyed his reason, killed the conductor and a passenger on train 93 of the Iron Mountain road at this place yesterday in a most bloody tragedy. The scene of the double blooded murder was a most shocking and sensational to an unusual degree. The shooting took place at noon, just as the train was pulling out from here, after taking passengers for the South from the Memphis train. Graeter had already acted in such a way as to cause Conductor E. W. Leach to suspect that he was insane and to anticipate trouble with him. Besides Graeter there were three persons in the car, Mr. Isadore Meier, traveling salesman for the cigar factory of Foster, Hillson & Co., thirty-nine street, New York; H. W. Leach, the conductor, whose home is in St. Louis, and a lady whose name was not learned.

A MANIAC MURDERER.
The train had just pulled past the station here when Graeter rose from his seat, leveled a revolver at Isadore Meier's head and fired, killing him instantly. Meier fell back in his seat with a bullet in his brain. Another shot penetrated his arm. Conductor Leach, realizing that he had a murderous maniac in his car, rushed to the back platform, followed by Graeter, and grasping the bell cord swung himself from the back of the car. Graeter deliberately stepped over the edge of the car, and landed on the ground. He was shot through the heart. With the bell-cord wrapped around his arm Conductor Leach was dragged 200 yards before the train was stopped, and was dead when released from the cord. The train was only stopped by the Memphis engine blowing the "down whistle," and the train was then started on its way. The scene was witnessed by the horror-stricken crowd on the train and on the station platform.

AT BAY IN A PARLOR CAR.
Graeter rushed back into the parlor-car after killing Leach, and when the crowd attempted to enter they found him lying flat in the aisle with a pistol in each hand. Nearly an hour was spent in devising some strategy by which he could be captured and disarmed, but without avail. At last the murderer was told that the train would be stopped on the next stop, and he threw out his pistols and surrendered. In another moment the two pistols came flying through a window, and Graeter, exceedingly excited, was hurled to the ground. He was seized and hurried to the calaboose amidst intense excitement, his bearing and actions adding a deeper mystery to his strange deed.

THE MURDERER'S STORY.
The man seems to realize what he has done, and to be taking the necessary steps following his unprovoked murder of two unoffending people. He at once telegraphed his brother at Vincennes, Ind., where he is interested in street railway lines, and then asked that a good lawyer be sent to him. He stated, apparently under great mental strain, that Meier and Leach had threatened to kill him. He is well dressed and has over $200 on his person. Meier had just entered the car, coming from the Memphis train, when shot by Graeter. The coroner's jury is now engaged on the case.

CONDUCTOR LEACH KNOWN HERE.
Conductor E. W. Leach, murdered in such a horrible fashion by Graeter, was well known in St. Louis. He was an employee of the Pullman Palace Car Co., and a visit to the company's offices in the Equitable building, this morning found that action necessitated by the tragedy was being taken. Supt. Martyn said: "Leach was employed through this office as a conductor early in January last and has an excellent record for his short length of service as a steady and sober man. He had previously been employed by the Missouri Pacific road at Memphis, Tenn., and before that by the Transcontinental Association and brought good references from both companies. He was about 25 years old, unmarried, and his application for a position as Pullman palace car conductor, stated that he had a sister and brother dependent upon him for support. They and his mother lived at Great Bend, Kan., and the brother died shortly after Leach was employed by us. He applied for leave of absence to attend the funeral, which was granted, it being the only time that the young man laid off from work. "This morning I received a telegram from Leach's mother in Great Bend, Me., in response, to forward his remains to Great Bend, and stating, if that could not be done, that she would come at once and take charge of them. The mother has already been shipped to St. Louis, and will arrive tomorrow, when she will be at once sent on to Great Bend. The mother has been notified that the remains of her son will be forwarded to her without delay. The published account of the tragedy contains as much information as we possess regarding it."

THE BANNER ROUTE TO CHICAGO.
$2.75—WABASH—$2.75—WABASH—$2.75. Banner Reclining Chair Cars. Banner Palace Sleepers. Banner Comfortable Sleepers. Lavatory, with hot and cold water, in every compartment. Entire train lighted by Gas. Arrives Dearborn Station, Chicago, within five blocks of the lake. St. Louis ticket offices: 81½ corner Broadway and Olive street, and Union Depot.

THE BANNER TRAIN OF AMERICA.

THE BUILDERS RETURN.

The Mechanics Exchange Delegates Arrive Home To-day.
Messrs. Thomas Kelley, W. J. Baker and Patrick Mulvaney, three of the delegates from the local Mechanics' Exchange to the National body, which met in New York last week, returned home this morning. They were accompanied by Secretary John J. Furlong, Building Commissioner, who were also in attendance. The gentlemen report that the national organization had a most successful session, and that they had secured the support of the National body for the work of the local body. The delegates also reported that they had secured the support of the National body for the work of the local body. The delegates also reported that they had secured the support of the National body for the work of the local body.

KANSAS LIQUOR LAW.
An Important Opinion Rendered by Judge Caldwell at Little Rock.
LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Feb. 18.—Last summer Judges Phillips and Foster, holding the Circuit Court of the United States at Topeka, Kan., enjoined the State authorities of Kansas from prosecuting criminally persons charged with violations of the liquor law of that State. The case afterward came before Judge Caldwell in this city on final hearing and he has just filed an opinion sustaining a demurrer to the bills and has dissolved the injunction. He holds that the Circuit Court of the United States has no jurisdiction to grant the injunction, the following being his reasons for making such ruling: "The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have no jurisdiction to interfere with the internal police regulations of a State. The case is not a proper one for the courts of this country to decide. It is a case of internal police regulation, and it is for the State to decide whether it will enforce its laws or not. The courts of this country have

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

PUBLISHED BY THE DISPATCH PUBLISHING CO.
JOSEPH FULTZ, President.

TERMS OF THE DAILY.
One year, postage paid, every afternoon and Sunday morning, $10.00
Six months, 5.00
Three months, 2.50
By the week (delivered by carrier), 15
By the month (delivered by carrier), 65
Sunday edition, by mail, per year, 2.00
Subscribers who fail to receive their paper regularly will confer a favor upon us by reporting the same to this office by postal card.
All business or news letters or telegrams should be addressed to the Post-Dispatch, 513 Olive st.

POSTAGE.
Entered at the Post-office, St. Louis, Mo., as Second-class matter.
DOMESTIC. Per Copy
Eighteen to thirty pages, 1 Cent
Thirty to thirty-six pages, 2 Cents
FOREIGN.
Daily (5 Pages), 1 Cent
10 to 12 Pages, 2 Cents
13 to 24 Pages, 3 Cents
Sunday (26 to 32 Pages), 4 Cents

THE SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.

Its Circulation Year by Year.
1888.....1,434,070 Copies
Average, 27,055.
1889.....1,588,081 Copies
Average, 29,905.
1890.....2,306,654 Copies
Average, 44,358.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1891.

AMUSEMENTS TO-NIGHT.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE—"Hands Across the Sea."
OLYMPIA—E. H. Sother.
FORD'S—Maggie Mitchell.
HAYLINS—"The Limited Mail."
STANDARD—"Golden Gulch."
MATINEE TO-MORROW.
HAYLINS—"The Limited Mail."

Weather forecast for twenty-four hours, beginning at 8 a. m. to-day, for Missouri: Continued cold; variable winds; fair.
Weather forecast for twenty-four hours, beginning at 8 a. m. to-day, for St. Louis: Light snow, followed by fair weather; slightly warmer.

SUPPRESSING the Noland defalcation in the Legislature is merely sending it to the stamp.

THE Republicans and Alliance members of the Illinois Legislature come together about as well as water and oil.

A FINE exhibition of the operation of the back-action petard has been given by St. Louis Congressmen in the Harlow case.

THE Illinois question is an important one, but it should not lead the people of this country to forget that the McKinley tariff law is in existence.

THE election of PALMER is the only logical and proper outcome of the Illinois Senatorial contest, and it is high time for the Alliance men to recognize the fact.

ANOTHER proof that the victory of the Farmers' Alliance was a good thing for Kansas is found in the adoption of a corrupt practice act by the Kansas House.

THE record of the State Grain Inspector's office is the best proof of the folly of the Board of Railroad Commissioners in selecting broken down politicians for the office.

THE Arkansas defalcation is nearly twice as large as the Missouri defalcation, but the Arkansas Legislature is bringing out instead of covering up the facts about it.

THE Democrats are certainly divided on the silver coinage question, but recent votes in Congress show that the Republicans cannot afford to indulge in loud laughter over their predicament.

THE efforts of Mr. BLAINE to undo protective legislation by means of free trade treaties, are certainly commendable, but not likely to amount to much more than the production of a serviceable campaign cry for 1892.

THE combination of the Democrats with the Farmers' Alliance in South Dakota has secured for the State a Senator who is an independent Democrat, and this is better than a hide-bound Democrat under all circumstances.

THE funeral of SHERMAN next Saturday will be, in all probability, the last great military funeral the present generation will have an opportunity to see. It will bring together an unusual number of notable people, and will be an event in every way worth witnessing and worth recalling in future days.

THE election of PALMER in Illinois would make the fifth breach in the Republican Senatorial ranks. This reduction of the Republican margin in the Senate and the consequent improvement of chances for needed legislation in opposition to the monopolists should be worth some sacrifice on the part of the Farmers' Alliance in that State.

THIS April election offers as a rich prize to successful ring combinations the control of an expenditure of about $15,000,000 of city money in the next four years. Yet with this election only a little more than a month away, no party committee even thinks of holding a meeting to fix a time for beginning the formalities of ticket-making. This is a pretty good sign that the tickets are already made and that the makers deem it politic to screen their handwork from public scrutiny as long as possible.

IN the Republican glorification over the supposed advantages of a reciprocity treaty with Brazil, the necessity of securing the consent of that country to the treaty has been overlooked. Advisors from Brazil indicate that the Brazilians do not want a reciprocity treaty with the United States, because they fail to see the benefits it will confer upon them. They prefer to continue trading with Europe.

SENATOR STONE's electric wire subway bill has been ordered to engrossment in the State Senate and there is a fair chance that this city will get a measure of relief from the dangerous network of overhead wires. The demand for this relief comes from the people of St. Louis while the opposition comes from the electric corporations. A farmer Legislature should have no trouble in deciding how to act under the circumstances.

OF course there is a little private subsidy job in the Hawaiian cable appropriation. The United States acquired under our Hawaiian treaty the right to land a cable, but a Massachusetts man by the name of HARTWELL obtained from KALAKAUA a concession of the same right and this appropriation is foisted into the diplomatic and consular bill, where it can be used to make that concession salable and valuable.

SOMEHOW every morbid humor in the blood of this country selects Chicago as its place of eruption. Labor troubles break out elsewhere and may be attended anywhere with some little disorder. But in Chicago they breed Anarchist conspiracies and massacres. Trusts are formed elsewhere and do a good deal of lucrative business in their piratical way. But in Chicago they undertake to destroy competition by blowing it up with dynamite cartridges. Chicago is the social storm center of the Union.

THE present administration's idea, as developed so far, is to adjust tariff questions by treaty, without consulting the House, and thus to acquire revenue independent of that body of the people's representatives which is supposed to control the national purse. The utter impracticability of this idea was shown last November by the election of a House overwhelmingly in favor of repealing the law under which the administration is acting.

Another phase of its impracticability is likely to appear in the refusal of Brazil to ratify Mr. BLAINE's Brazilian reciprocity treaty. By ratifying that treaty, and charging a low rate of duty on American goods and a high rate on European goods of the same description, she would simply be protecting particular foreign interests at the expense of her own people and her own revenues. It is questionable whether she will concede us any such exclusive benefit, and whether we should profit by it if we could get it. We would certainly pay more for it under the McKinley act than we could ever realize from it.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

X. Y. Z.—If the light is a draw the bets are drawn.
J. M.—"C. A. F." means "cost and freight."

OLD SUBSCRIBER.—The Prince of Battenberg married a daughter of Queen Victoria.
TOM.—A debt for liquor supplied can be collected by legal process in this state.

J. M.—Weiss beer is not a violent intoxicant, but can scarcely be ranked as a temperance beverage. The process of manufacture is too complicated for description in this column.

POLITICIAN.—The son of any American citizen is eligible to the presidency.
SUBSCRIBER.—Address the Secretary of State at Jefferson City to obtain the information you desire.

F. S.—The engagement ring is worn on the third finger of the left hand.
V. A. T.—Address the American Secretary of Legation at London, for the information you desire.

SHAREHOLDER.—The legality of the action described by you depends upon the constitution and by-laws of the society.
J. K.—There are 115 counties in the State of Missouri.

READER.—A shotgun, skillfully handled, will effectively clear your garden of your neighbor's chickens. After the slaughter it may prove necessary to use the shotgun on your neighbor.

READER.—The prices at the Saturday market, Pope's Theater, are the same as those that prevail on Wednesday and Friday.
UNA.—Robert Downing has no date in this city this season. Mr. Kendall's daughter is not an actress and does not appear on the stage.

HENRY.—Write to the New York Dramatic News or Mirror, New York City.
P. F. G.—The prices at Haylin's Theater at evening performances are 75 cents for the parquette.

DR. GILL.—A half-dollar of 1836 is worth 55 cents.
SUBSCRIBER, J. H.—The stamp filtration was published in full in the Post-Dispatch of Nov. 28, 1890.

L. ISOLA.—There is no premium on a dime of 1825.
D. G.—Trade dollars have no value attached to them whatever, except the amount of silver in them.

G. C.—A silver half dollar of 1888 without 0 under the head is not a premium.
CONSTANT READER.—Sept. 10, 1890, fell on Thursday, Dec. 18, 1890, fell on Friday. A half dollar of 1871 is worth 55 cents and ones of 1859 and 1867 are not at premium.

Mrs. T.—Your suggestion has been forwarded to New York, where much more could be done than here, should any results follow the fact will be published here.

Another Good Man Gone Wrong.
From the Washington Post.
"I thought I'd come to Washington and see Congress make some of our laws," said the visitor, as he set his grip sack down on the hotel counter.
"How many years do you expect to remain with us?" inquired the clerk politely.

THE VAIL TRIAL.

Miss Lizzie McAtee's Story of Her Cousin's Shooting.

THE YOUNG LADY KEPT ON THE STAND NEARLY THE WHOLE DAY.

She Gives Testimony Which is Considered Damaging to the Defendant—Vail's Cool and Indifferent Manner After His Wife Had Received Her Death Wound—Mrs. Vail's Declarations.

Past upon the heels of one another sensation follows sensation in the now celebrated murder case of the State against Charles F. Vail and though the wrath of the attorneys overflows and floods the court-room now and then with volumes of excited argument, beneath it all are starting revelations and the plan of the defense carries reputations will fall like leaves in autumn and amidst the wreck will stand unspotted Charles F. Vail alone. One day of testimony was sufficient to show the course of the defense, as witness after witness takes the stand and the jury are moved closer to the inchoate man has been surrounded by a gauzy network of circumstantial evidence, through the instrumentality of perjured witnesses, actuated by the most abominable motives. How far this defense will succeed is a question that no lawyer can answer. The defense is untried, but the boldness of the defense dares attack them all, and the startling course of yesterday's proceedings is enough to show that the defense is not a mere bluff, but a serious attempt to win.

Mr. T. J. McAtee had been examined, then cross-examined. The defense had found in his testimony some statements conflicting with those of Charles F. Vail. The preliminary examination at St. Charles. For instance: Mr. McAtee had said on both occasions that he at first thought the killing an accident, but had changed his mind after scrutinizing the overcoat. He had also said that in a conversation which occurred between him and Vail shortly after the shooting, the latter had said that he had better take that pistol and throw it into the river as you cross the old Monroe bridge, for the same thing might happen to my daughter that happened to your wife. The conversation indicated that at the time it occurred Mr. McAtee thought the shooting was an accident. The examination of the coat, he had changed his mind. At St. Charles, he said that the conversation occurred after he examined the overcoat and here he said that it occurred before.

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

during the "wriggle" and the jury was sent out while the attorneys argued the question. The Court finally decided that the question was not admissible and the jury returned.

"I am stopped by the Court," said Mr. McDonald.
"I want to ask you one question, Mr. McAtee," said Mr. McDonald.
"I am stopped by the Court," said Mr. McDonald.

"None whatever, sir," said Mr. McAtee, and then he was excused.
The jury then returned. These are the scenes that are regularly occurring in the court-room. They do not excite sympathy for any case. The only impression they create is that the attorneys are practicing much bad manners and little law.

VAIL CALM AND COMPOSED.
Vail sat through it all, calm, composed as any young person. There is a feeling among those who attend that he deserves and ought to have a fair trial, but everyone believes that the circumstances of the case, at least, justify a judicial inquiry into the manner of Vail's death and so there is no abundance of sympathy for him. Just behind him sits a motherly-looking old lady, with silver-gray hair and gold-rimmed spectacles; a quiet sweet-faced old woman, who could not hurt to anyone. With a face full of anxiety, she eyes her son's attorney as he battles for her son's life, and there is an expression of sadness as her moist eyes turn to the counsel for the State, then again to the Court and back from one to the other as each speaks. Her look is intent, her interest deep as her heart. Gully may be the verdict, the jury may be moved closer to the inchoate man has been surrounded by a gauzy network of circumstantial evidence, through the instrumentality of perjured witnesses, actuated by the most abominable motives. How far this defense will succeed is a question that no lawyer can answer. The defense is untried, but the boldness of the defense dares attack them all, and the startling course of yesterday's proceedings is enough to show that the defense is not a mere bluff, but a serious attempt to win.

Mr. T. J. McAtee had been examined, then cross-examined. The defense had found in his testimony some statements conflicting with those of Charles F. Vail. The preliminary examination at St. Charles. For instance: Mr. McAtee had said on both occasions that he at first thought the killing an accident, but had changed his mind after scrutinizing the overcoat. He had also said that in a conversation which occurred between him and Vail shortly after the shooting, the latter had said that he had better take that pistol and throw it into the river as you cross the old Monroe bridge, for the same thing might happen to my daughter that happened to your wife. The conversation indicated that at the time it occurred Mr. McAtee thought the shooting was an accident. The examination of the coat, he had changed his mind. At St. Charles, he said that the conversation occurred after he examined the overcoat and here he said that it occurred before.

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"Did you see the letter?" asked Gov. Johnson.
"Yes, sir."
"Did he notify her in that letter to remain with him?"
"Yes, sir."

Mr. McDonald objected and insisted on the introduction of the letter. The State did not object. The jury were then told to return to the next on New Year's eve and then the last visit in February. She testified that they came together on Feb. 1, and Vail returned on that day. She said that she had seen him that week, but Vail notified her to wait for him, as he would be out on the following Saturday.

"When was the first time that you examined that coat?"
"About 4 o'clock that afternoon."
"Who examined it with you?"
"Yes."
"What did you find?"
"I found a hole in the pocket of the coat near the front corner."
"What was the location of the pocket?"
"It was straight down."
"And the lining?"
"It was straight."
"Did you find another hole?"
"Yes."
"Where was it?"
"Between the lining and the coat."
"Then you found it on the coat and handed it to Miss McAtee, who came down from the witness stand, and taking the coat pointed out to the jury the relative positions of the bullet holes, the one in the lining being nearly or about ten or eleven inches above the hole in the pocket."
Then Mr. Johnson said: "Were you at the house until Mrs. Vail died?"
"Yes."
"Did you see Mr. Vail there?"
"Yes."
"Was he the jury what was his demeanor from the time of the injury until he left there?"
Mr. McDonald objected on the ground that the question called for an opinion.
The objection was overruled.

WITNESS: "He was very cool and indifferent."
"Did you see any action of his which indicated his feeling towards his wife?"
The question was objected to and the objection was sustained.
"He was cool and indifferent all the while."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Is that the only conversation you had with him while he was there?"
"No, sir. He told me that he was very hard on him to hear. He replied that he never could stand it if it had not been for the kindness of our family."
"Did you see any action on his part that indicated his feeling?"
"No, sir."
"Did you have any conversation with him?"
"Yes, sir. I told him that it was very hard on him to hear. He replied that

2

FINANCIAL.

L. A. COQUARD,
INVESTMENT BROKER
194 North Third Street.
Bonds and stocks of every description bought and sold outright or on commission. Will be pleased to serve you.

FOR SALE.
100 shares Nat'l Bank of Commerce.
50 shares Nat'l Bank of Republic.

Future Sales To

	Lowest.	High.
27 1/2	27 1/2	27 1/2
75	75	75
118	118	118
41 1/2	41 1/2	41 1/2
83	83	83
84 1/2	84 1/2	84 1/2
106 1/2	106 1/2	106 1/2
19	19	19
22	22	22
134 1/2	134 1/2	134 1/2
135 1/2	135 1/2	135 1/2
184 1/2	184 1/2	184 1/2
7 1/2	7 1/2	7 1/2
83	83	83
100 1/2	100 1/2	100 1/2
26	26	26
86 1/2	86 1/2	86 1/2
14 1/2	14 1/2	14 1/2
57 1/2	57 1/2	57 1/2
113 1/2	113 1/2	113 1/2
194 1/2	194 1/2	194 1/2

but the close was 1 1/2c
Max opened at 5 1/2c and sold to 5

[illegible]

Wheat—Closing—May, 97½¢; July, 98½¢.
53½¢; July, 52½¢@1¢. Oats—May, 46½¢.

cent. Utter market after directly devoid
Burlington
the market as small frac-

Receipts by	Shipments by	W
...

Bid.	Ask.
102 ³ / ₄	103
126	127 ¹ / ₂
100 ¹ / ₂	100 ³ / ₄
100	101
100	101
105	106
101	102 ¹ / ₂
110	111
111	112
101	102
102	103
102	103
102	103

Cost of Wheat and Corn To-Day.

115	109
101 1/2	109 1/2
107 1/2	108
110	111
111 1/2	112
110	111
108	108

$3,514.175
494.367

Called on

n Loan &
12:30 to-g a dement of this city
ment. A bout the
the cons Preston

corn, 96,509 bu.

depositors
ace left.
se, one in bank, the demanded
to $25,000.
ay and
s banks,
n. Later
, who is s to make
It is said
e to re-

—

DRINK VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA

AT THE DELICATESSEN.

CITY NEWS.

Dr. E. O. Chase,
Corner of 9th and Olive streets, set of teeth, 18.

Private matters skillfully treated and medicines furnished. Dr. Dinaberg, 814 Pine st.

BURNED A HOLE IN THE CARPET.

An Acid Spill to Be Harmless Leaves a Mark in the Postmaster's Office.

There is a bare spot in the carpet that covers Postmaster Harlow's office which immediately attracts the eye on entering the room. In front of it is a small, and the impression that some one sits in the chair a greater part of the time and shuffles his feet. "That spot tells a story," said the Postmaster in answer to a query how it came there. He then went on to tell of the Chicago Postmaster, who some time ago found a company sending a powerful acid in glass bottles surrounded with paste board through the mails. He forbade it and the makers of the compound came to this city. It was not long before the bottle was found in the mails and Mr. Harlow asked the mailer of the bottles to call and see him. The gentleman sending them through the mail said the mixture was perfectly harmless. It was only an acid used for putting on cow's horns and rotting the horn off, thus making more room in shipping them and less danger to injury. Postmaster Harlow says he asked what the acid was and the gentleman gave a long and scientific dissertation on the mixture during which Mr. Harlow fondled the bottle. He accidentally dropped it and the acid poured out over an area one foot square and the fabric immediately changed color. "Are you sure it will not injure the carpet?" asked Mr. Harlow. "Positive, sir. Not the least harm, sir. Child may handle it, sir, as well as a man." Just then a thin vapor arose from the spot, and Mr. Harlow called for the boy, some rags and water. The boy appeared with the wet rag, and when he passed the cloth over the spot he took that portion of the carpet touched by the acid with it.

"I believe it is injurious," said the owner of the dehorner, who walked out, and the mixture goes by express now. Had one of the bottles broken in a mail bag the clerk on opening the bag would find a fine mass of pulpy letters reduced to that state by the acid.

THE BANNER ROUTE TO CHICAGO.
$5.75—WABASH—$5.75—WABASH—$5.75.
Banner Reclining Chair Cars.
Banner Palace Sleepers.
Banner Comfort Sleepers.

Lavatory, with hot and cold water, in every compartment.
Entire train lighted by Gas.
Arrives Dearborn Station, Chicago, within five blocks of the leading hotels.

St. Louis ticket office: S. E. corner Broadway and Olive street, and Union Depot.
Call for a ticket and train.

THE BANNER TRAIN OF AMERICA.
HE SPED ON CHARLES NOLAND.

The Case Against Detective Chas. Bennett Dismissed.

A nolle prosequi has been entered on the docket of the Court of Criminal Correction in the case against Charles Bennett. The charge was one of acting in the capacity of a private detective without having obtained the necessary license. Behind the court proceeding there is an interesting little tale.

Four years ago Charles T. Noland, an ex-member of the State Legislature and at the time a lawyer of high standing in St. Louis, courted, attained to considerable prominence through an action for divorce brought by his young wife. Noland filed a cross bill, and the case was hotly contested on every point. It appears that Charles Bennett was employed by some person interested in Mrs. Noland's side of the case, to dog Noland's footsteps in order that evidence of damaging nature might possibly be secured for use in court. Noland in some way learned of the game. He stood the shadowing for some time and then carried the charge against Bennett with acting as a private detective without having obtained a license from the Board of Police Commissioners, as the law required. The case was heard before a jury in the Court of Criminal Correction. Attorney Thomas B. Harvey sitting as provisional judge. Bennett was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and be imprisoned in the city jail for a term of thirty days.

Through his attorneys the defendant first moved for a new trial and then carried the case to the Court of Appeals. Being beaten at both points he took the action to the Supreme Court of Missouri. Only a short time ago the case was reversed and the technical error in the Court's instructions. In this case, however, Noland has left the city, and no person appeared to prosecute the action. Bennett was, until a year ago, Town Marshal at Kirkwood.

Shortest Line to All Points West.
On Feb. 1 the Burlington Route opened a new line to Deadwood, S. D. The morning train leaving St. Louis at 9:30 a. m. connects at Lincoln for all points in the Black Hills. Through sleepers and coaches are run from Lincoln to Deadwood.

Two solid through trains are run daily via the Burlington route to Kansas City, St. Joseph, Denver, St. Paul and Minneapolis. Only one change of cars is made at St. Louis via Denver or St. Paul. For tickets, rates, pamphlets, maps and further information, apply at the office of the Company, No. 112 North Fourth street or Union Depot.

Fired a Shot at Him.
Sam Roland and Isaac Adams, both colored, engaged in an altercation in Horace Davis' barber shop, 727 North Eleventh street, yesterday afternoon. Roland fired one shot at Adams. The ball barely missed Davis and crashed through a pane of glass in the door. Roland then ran and escaped. He is 29 years old and was until recently employed as a barber in the shop at 618 North Eleventh street.

Try the Budweiser Restaurant, Sixth and Locust.
All the delicacies of the season.

Augusta Daily Has Another Fire.
About 2:30 o'clock this morning, an alarm was given from box 243 for a blaze in the second floor of the brick stable in the rear of 1627 Washington avenue. The stable is owned by Mr. Switzer and was occupied by Augusta Daily. A quantity of furniture, which Mr. Daily's son, Oscar, had stored in the place, was damaged to the amount of $50. The cause of the fire is not known.

Entitled to the Best.
All are entitled to the best that their money will buy, so every family should have, at once, a bottle of the best family remedy, Syrup of Figs, to cleanse the system when cough or biliousness. For sale in 3c and 10c bottles by all leading druggists.

Fell Against an Ice-Box.
Henry Dettis, a single man, 70 years old, fell against an ice-box while in the police at Natural Bridge road, about 9 o'clock last night, and received a severe scalp-wound, three inches in length. He was sent in an ambulance to the City Hospital. Dettis has no settled place of abode.

Interest on having the genuine Red Cross Cough Drops. Five cents per box.

KNOCKED OUT HIS MAN.

JIM HALL IS GIVEN A TRIAL BEFORE THE CALIFORNIA CLUB.

Danny Needham Is Defeated by Jimmy Ryan—Progress of the California Club—Tournament—Ben Ali Haggin's Career—Sporting News of All Kinds.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Jim Hall made his debut before the California Athletic Club last night and he won the admiration of all sports. He is a wonder. He stands 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 184 pounds. He was matched against Alexander Greggans, the amateur champion middle-weight of the coast. Greggans started in to fight things in the first round, but the soon found Hall in it with him, and before the first round was half over he was knocked groggy twice by clever right-hand cross-counters, and from that time on the Pacific coast man was nowhere. The Australian knocked him out in half a round. Hall is by all odds the best of his class ever seen in the California Athletic Club, but he is not a professional pugilist.

The knocking out of Greggans by Hall in such short order will probably give the Australian the desired standing with the California Club, and that organization may now be expected to offer a big purse for a fight between Hall and Fitzsimmons. Greggans is an amateur, who is not known at all this side of the Rockies, so that his defeat by Hall affords no line to people in this section of the country whereby to gauge the Australian. The best of amateurs never class with professional pugilists, but no doubt Greggans is a sparrer of more than ordinary ability for an amateur, or the California Club would not have chosen him as an adversary for the Antipodean in order that they might judge of the latter's ability. As they selected Greggans to meet Hall they should be willing to stand by the test and give the Australian credit for being a first-class man. People further East, however, will want better evidence of Hall's pugilistic ability before classing him with Fitzsimmons, particularly in view of the fact that before leaving the colonies the Australian was beaten in an eight-round contest by Billy McCarthy, whom the New Zealand whippersnapper easily. Either Hall did not try to win with McCarthy or he is no match for Fitzsimmons.

RYAN DEFEATS NEEDHAM.
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 18.—Danny Needham of St. Paul and Tommy Ryan of Chicago fought with four-round gloves last night before the Twin City Athletic Club for the prize of $1,000 and the New Zealand whippersnapper, who paid $10 a piece for the privilege. Needham weighed 137½ pounds and Ryan 189 pounds. Charley Kemmick and Australian Smith were the form's seconds, while Billy Myer and George Siddons were back of Ryan. Joe Manick, sporting editor of a local paper, was referee. Ryan appeared to have the advantage in reach, but Needham seemed to be in the better condition.

In the opening round Needham landed twice on Ryan's stomach and cleverly ducked away. Ryan forced matters in the next two rounds and landed a couple of hard blows. In the fourth round he received a hot one in the face. The seventh and eighth rounds were characterized by hot exchanges, and in the next four rounds Ryan had things pretty much his own way and jabbed his antagonist in the eye several times with the apparent purpose of blinding him. Again in the fifteenth and sixteenth rounds Ryan did some of the same thing and Needham began to display signs of distress. He kept on fighting, however, and for the greater part of the time honors were about even. When the sixteenth round was concluded Needham had gained any decided advantage, though Ryan had administered more punishment than he received. The referee announced that if the fight was not ended in the next two rounds he would decide it on its merits as it stood at the end of that time. Needham landed a heavy swinging right-hander on Ryan's neck in the sixteenth round, but failed to knock out his man. The fight continued despite the referee's announcement of what he intended to do, and in the seventeenth round Ryan landed a knockdown blow on Needham's face, knocking him down. As soon as he got up Ryan uppercut him repeatedly. Needham going down four times. The last time he remained down and was carried to the hospital, where a second view up the sponge and the Chicago man was declared the winner. Pandemonium reigned just before the end was reached.

That Joe Goddard, "The Barri Champion," is a rattling good one admits of no dispute now, writes Macon. He made big money in the ring, and he is a good, steady, and reliable fighter. He is a good, steady, and reliable fighter. He is a good, steady, and reliable fighter.

Now he has done up Joe Choyinski in four rounds. It is true that Choyinski is not the cleverest boxer in the world, but he is, nevertheless, a good, steady, and reliable fighter. He is a good, steady, and reliable fighter. He is a good, steady, and reliable fighter.

WINTER RACING.
NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The races at Guttenburg yesterday were attended by 8,000 people and were run on a very sloppy track. Below are the results of the races, the events of the day being the Herald handicap, won by Woodcuter, ridden by Tarral.

First race, six furlongs—Chilworth 103, Dugan, 1st; Mar 106, Jones, 2nd; Lillie B. 92, H. Jones, 3rd. Time, 1:25½.
Second race, five furlongs—Lietze 96, Van Kuren, 1st; Janet 107, Jones, 2nd; Algeba 94, J. J. Barrett, 3rd. Time, 1:09¾.
Third race, one mile and a quarter—Emmance 116, Tarral, 1st; Tarral, 2nd; McNeil, 3rd; Ernest 109, Penny, 4th. Time, 2:27½.
Fourth race, six and one-half furlongs—Woodcuter 120, Tarral, 1st; Bumpus 102, Lambier, 2nd; Francis B. 114, Taylor, 3rd. Time, 1:32½.
Fifth race, five furlongs—Clutter II, 116, Dargatz, 1st; Monsoon 111, Penny, 2nd; Blunt 108, French, 3rd. Time, 1:08.
Sixth race, six furlongs—Nepemus 119, Marshall, 1st; John Jay S. 109, Barrett, 2nd; Blue Grass 92, D. Watson, 3rd. Time, 1:41¼.

NEW ORLEANS MEETING.
NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 18.—At the track here yesterday the races resulted:
First race, selling, half mile—Regardes won by ten lengths; Lee Dinkins came fast and beating May Star two lengths for the place. Time, 1:09½.
Second race, selling, nine-sixteenths—St. Paul won by over two lengths; Dakota second throughout, a scant length before Branki D. Time, 1:04½.
Third race, selling, three-eighths—A mile—Hartee won in a gallop by ten lengths; John Day and Pritchett alternated in the place, Pritchett finally drawing away and beating Day two lengths. Time, 1:18.
Fourth race, selling, half mile—King Richard won

45th Annual Statement of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co. Of Hartford, Conn.

NET ASSETS, January 1, 1890, $56,332,941.24
RECEIVED IN 1890,
For Premiums, $4,416,575.32
For Interest & Rents, 3,029,055.49
Profit and Loss, 369,410.61
$84,147,982.67

DISBURSED IN 1890,
For claims by death and matured endowments, $4,224,003.65
Surplus returned to policyholders, 1,147,381.79
Lapsed and Surrendered Policies, 461,706.90

TOTAL TO POLICYHOLDERS, $5,833,532.94
Commissions to Agents, Salaries, Medical Examiners' fees, Printing, Advertising, Legal fees, and all other expenses, 732,610.05
Taxes, 292,586.24
$1,025,196.29

BALANCE NET ASSETS, Dec. 31, 1890, $57,269,094.04

SCHEDULE OF ASSETS,
Loans upon Real Estate, first lien, $35,674,585.53
Loans upon Stocks and Bonds, 38,282.50
Premium Notes on Policies in Force, 1,688,178.94
Cost of Real Estate owned by the Co., 7,062,865.54
Cost of United States and other Bonds 11,155,464.64
Cost of Bank and Railroad Stocks, 401,783.25
Cash in Banks, 661,466.84
Bills receivable, 1,750.00
Balance due from Agents, secured, 4,714.80
$57,269,094.04

ADD
Interest due and accrued, $1,019,227.24
Rents accrued, 7,537.00
Market value of stocks and bonds over cost, 294,507.61
Net deferred premiums, 137,941.55
$1,458,613.40

GROSS ASSETS, December 31, 1890, $58,747,707.44

LIABILITIES:
Amount required to insure all outstanding policies, net, company's standard, $32,365,292.00
All other liabilities, 910,475.25
$33,275,767.25

SURPLUS by Company's Standard, $5,572,000.19
Surplus by Legal Standard (4 per cent), 6,150,000.00

Ratio of expenses of management to receipts in 1890, 9.37 per cent
Policies in force Dec. 31, 1890, 64,147. Insurance, $153,284,742.00

JACOB L. GREENE, Pres.
JOHN M. TAYLOR, Vice-Pres.
EDWARD M. BUNCE, Sec.
D. H. WELLS, Asst. Sec.

NATHAN KAUFMAN, General Agent,
Room 40-41, Turner Building,
ST. LOUIS, MO.

A. B. DENTON, Dist. Supt. Agencies.

by half a length, Ben Boy getting the place from Red Stone by two lengths. Time, 1:04½.
GLOUCESTER MEETING.
GLOUCESTER, N. J., Feb. 18.—The races here yesterday resulted as follows:

First race, four and a half furlongs—American, 1st; Louisa, 2nd; J. J. O'Brien, 3rd. Time, 1:04½.
Second race, five furlongs—Censor, 1st; Brewster, 2nd; Tom Kearns, 3rd. Time, 1:13½.
Third race, six furlongs—Tappanahock, 1st; Prince Albert, 2nd; Wanderer II, 3rd. Time, 1:20½.
Fourth race, one mile—Kylie B., 1st; Crispin, 2nd; Aftermath, 3rd. Time, 1:59¾.
Fifth race, seven and one-half furlongs—Enduro, 1st; Darling, 2nd; Courtier, 3rd. Time, 1:52½.

RUNNING AT HOT SPRINGS.
HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 18.—Yesterday's races here resulted as follows:

First race, selling, half mile—Jack O' Diamonds, 1st; Lady Blackburn, 2nd; Dan White, 3rd. Time, 1:04½.
Second race, selling, seven-eighths of a mile—Little Billy, 1st; A. B., 2nd; Toppal, 3rd. Time, 1:05½.
Third race, handicap, three-fourths of a mile—Nettie Kent, 1st; Mary Sue, 2nd; Source, 3rd. Time, 1:21½.
Fourth race, selling, seven-eighths of a mile—Gray Cloud, 1st; Wedgedale, 2nd; Billie Pinkerton, 3rd. Time, 1:05½.

BEN ALI HAGGIN.
NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Ben Ali Haggin, oldest son of the "Empire City" and turf man, J. B. Haggin, of Rancho del Paso, California, and who died yesterday of pneumonia at his home No. 10 West Fifty-fourth street, leaving a wife and two children, both boys, who are expected to arrive here in a few days. They have been sojourning in Europe. Mrs. Haggin was Miss George Jackson, who had been married to a lawyer in San Francisco, and his two sisters, both married, are living in Denver. The funeral arrangements will not be made till the widow arrives on the steamer La Champagne. It is probable that the body will then be taken to California.

Yesterday it was embalmed and placed in a coffin. Mr. Haggin, who was in his 80th year, was a man of quiet, tactful disposition, making few acquaintances. But those who knew him well and in the end became his friends. He was his father's representative in many enterprises, some of them of great magnitude. He first came before the public in connection with the conquest of his father's horse, Tyrant, in the Withers and Belmont stakes at Jerome Park, and of Ben Ali in the Kentucky Derby. His father's immense breeding interests kept both himself and his son closely identified with the turf. At one time they had a large and costly stable, and last year it was reduced to two horses, which became the acknowledged king and queen of the American turf. The victories of Salvador and Firenze were well known.

Mr. Haggin was also interested in stock broking, and was for a while the agent for a foreign champagne and other fine wines. His peculiar name, which was commonly supposed to denote Oriental origin, was the name of a dear friend of his father, Ben Ali, a wealthy and influential Turk. It is said that the younger Haggin was born near Constantinople. He was a member of several New York clubs and in the regular racing season, when in the city, was a constant attendant at the popular race courses. His house at No. 10 West Fifty-fourth street is charmingly furnished and contains a fine library.

Attention, G. A. R.
You are hereby notified that the Globe Shoe & Clothing Co., 78 to 715 Franklin avenue, are selling full uniform suits, color guaranteed, $7.50. Best quality, $9. Uniform hats, $1.25 to $2.

SPRING OVERCOATS!

A SUPERB ASSORTMENT, $6.50 up to $20.00.

Embracing the latest and noblest effects and fabrics for the Spring of '91.

See our unapproachable styles in Kerseys and Meltons

At $12.50 and $15

Our $8.50 Spring Overcoat is a corker for the price.

FAMOUS SHOE & CLOTHING CO
Broadway and Morgan.
Open till 10 p. m. Saturdays.

GRAND PALACE HOTEL.

81 to 103 NORTH CLARK STREET, CHICAGO.
4 Minutes from Court House.
Weekly, $3.00. Transients, 50c up.
Restaurant by Compagnon, late Chicago Club Chef.
POPULAR PRICES. NEW HOUSE.
Cut this out for further reference.

For the Spring of '91 SHOES.

An elegant line of Gents' Patent Leather Bals and Congress—silk, satin or French kid tops—the swellest Dress Shoe made,

$5.00 to $7.00.

Spring styles in Ladies' and Misses' Shoes. The leading novelties now on sale.

Famous Shoe Dep't

Broadway and Morgan.

HE LED A DOUBLE LIFE.

CHARLES ROSMAN ARRESTED FOR HAVING TWO WIVES.

He Married a Second Time Under an Assumed Name—The Brothers of His First Wife Find Him Out—He Will Be Prosecuted.

Shortly after 6 o'clock this morning Officers Kenny and Ernest of the Third District went to the residence at 1223 North Eighth street and took Charles Rosman alias Ross out of bed. The prisoner was permitted to dress and was then taken to the station at Seventh and Carr streets. Later in the day a warrant was sworn out against him with regard to his marriage in Scotland, and says she will prosecute the case to the end. Wife No. 2 insists that she was an innocent party to the crime and will probably obtain a divorce at once. Rosman is yet in custody.

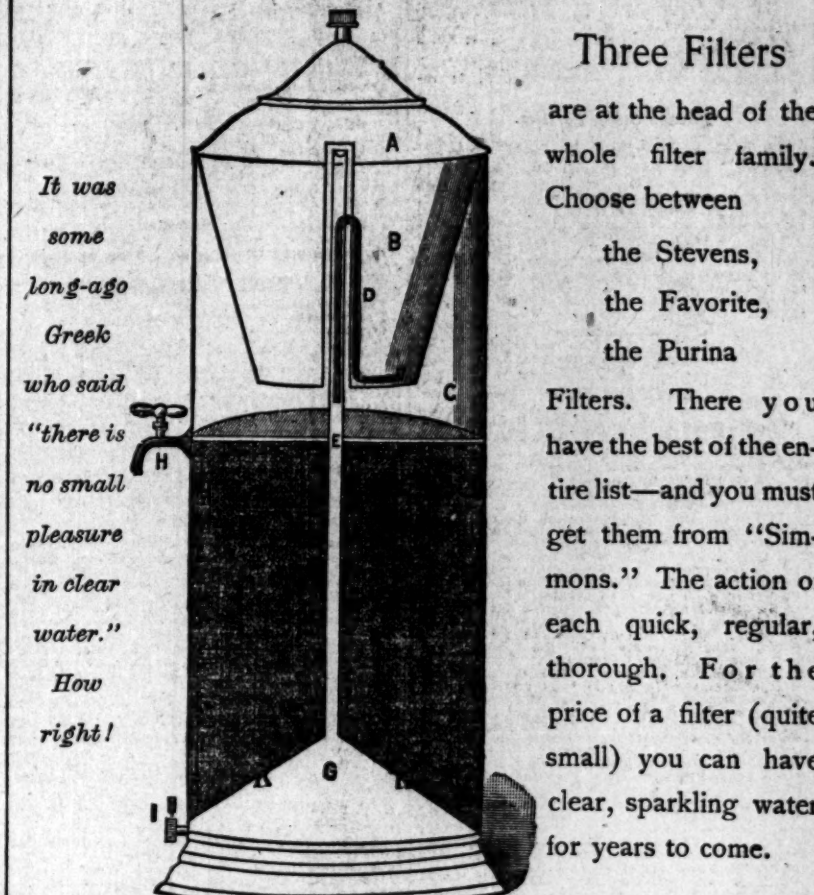

Tired Paying Rewards.
During the latter part of January a fox-hound valued at $50 disappeared from the kennel of Robert J. Rothwell, a fancier at 1038 North Thirteenth street. He advertised his loss and received a postcard asking how much reward he would pay for the return of the animal. Instead of answering he placed the case in the hands of the police. Soon after Detective Danaher and Freeman of the Central District found the dog in the kennel of B. S. Williams, a saloon-keeper at 601 South Theresa avenue, and a warrant was issued charging him with petit larceny. Through some mistake the case was dismissed when called in the Court of Criminal Correction, and to-day Rothwell made complaint to Prosecuting Attorney Dierkes in regard to the matter. Mr. Dierkes at once issued another warrant charging Williams with the same offense. Williams is quite prominent in local sporting circles, his greyhound, Belais, having taken first prize at the coursing sweepstakes held at the Fair Grounds last fall. Mr. Rothwell insists that within the past year he has paid out almost $200 in reward for the recovery of his dogs, and means to put a stop to the business.

"Skipper" Dean Sent to the Work-House.
"Skipper" Dean was sent to the Work-house in the "Black Maria," which rolled away from the Four Courts about 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. In the morning he had been in the First District Police Court on two charges of carrying concealed weapons and shooting off firearms inside the city limits. Sunday evening Dean, while at the corner of Twentieth and Market streets, fringed a colored newsboy named Jas. Anderson until he turned pale by firing a shot at his heels. He was arrested by Officer McMullen who found the revolver on his person. To-day the defendant pleaded guilty to the carrying of concealed weapons and the other case was made against him by the testimony of the newsboy and Officer. Judge Cady fined Dean $30 in the first action and $10 in the second.

As unknown man hurled a brick through a pane of glass in the front window of Goetting's saloon, Ninth and Clark avenue, about 2 o'clock this morning, and escaped.

Complaint was made yesterday to Capt.

Drink Impure Water and Count on Bad Health.

The Water Question—and it's a question of health—can be summed up water, result, health.

These Filters are the cleanest, most efficient and satisfactory known. Prices right.

There is but one place to buy Filters, of course we mean ourselves.

Simmons Hardware Co.,
Washington Avenue and Ninth Street.

SWOPE'S MEN'S SHOES

Are better, cheaper for the quality, and that there is a better stock of them at

311 N. BROADWAY

Than can be found in any Shoe House in St. Louis, and

SWOPE'S

$3.50 Hand-Welt Men's Shoe

Beats the world in true value. All the different shapes and styles.

GLOBE'S GREAT ODD-AND-END SALE.

All Odds and Ends Left Over From Our Clearing Sale Must Go.

NOW IS YOUR CHANCE.

If you want a Man's Suit or Overcoat, COME NOW.

If you want a Boy's Suit or Overcoat, NOW IS YOUR CHANCE.

If you want a pair of Pants for yourself or boy, NOW IS YOUR CHANCE.

If you want a pair of Shoes for yourself, wife or children; if you are in need of Hats, Caps, Gloves, Shirts or Underwear, NOW IS YOUR CHANCE, for all odds and ends must go, no matter what they cost.

GLOBE, 703, 705, 707, 709, 711, 713 FRANKLIN AVENUE.

Open evenings until 9; Saturdays until 11. Telephone 2640. Send for Illustrated Catalogue. Mail orders promptly and carefully filled.

"The Medical Marvel of the Age."

THE DE CROOT ELECTRO-GALVANIC REGENERATOR

NATURE'S OWN METHOD OF REGENERATING THE SYSTEM, preserving and sustaining health by scientific electro-therapeutic action, altogether unvaried, and yet so simple that any one can apply it.

REACHING THE VERY FOUNTAIN OF LIFE, it absolutely cures all diseases, however obstinate, where the nerve force is affected, as LOST or PALE, POORLY, frequently occurring in men who are otherwise sound, NERVOUS DEBILITY, EXHAUSTIVE DISCHARGES, WASTING OF THE PARTS, all forms of KIDNEY and BLADDER DISEASE, etc.

ALL COMPLAINTS CHARACTERIZED BY Debility, Nerveless, Nervousness, Headache, Loss of Sleep, Congestions, Distress and Tired, Weak, Dragging Sensations, are cured without fail. A Recharge is impossible, but should accident or imprudence cause recurrence, the REGENERATOR remains permanent, and can be re-applied with the same curative results as at first.

EQUAL IN EVERY RESPECT TO A COTLY BATTERY, it is preferable in that its operation is a steady, gentle current, without shock, pain or annoyance, producing an almost instantaneous and permanent effect, marvelous in character and well described as Regeneration.

THE REGENERATOR RECOMMENDS ITSELF, and hundreds of grateful patients testify to it. Among these are Physicians, Clergymen, Merchants, Clerks, Mechanics, Men of all conditions.

SENT POST-PAYED AND SECURELY SEALED, with full directions for use. Money refunded if not promptly so here requested. Send for one without delay. Is not your health worth two dollars?

FULL DESCRIPTIVE CIRCULARS sent mailed free on application.

THE DE CROOT ELECTRIC CO. 66 Liberty St., New York.

HUMPHREY'S.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Feb. 18, 1891.
The indications for to-day are light snow, followed by fair weather; warmer.

We allow no discount to any individual or firm from our prices, which you'll find plainly marked on all goods.

Overcoats.

We know you'll be interested if you'll only take time to examine those we're selling for $10. They're not regular Ten Dollar Coats, but such as sell for $15, $18, $20 and $22. It's a sacrifice on our part to let them go at the present price. In the lot are Chinchillas, Cheviots, plain and Fur Beavers, Kerseys and Meltons. These goods are new-made for this season's trade, very stylish, and have all Filters. There you have the best of the entire list—and you must get them from "Simmons." The action of each quick, regular, thorough. For the price of a filter (quite small) you can have clear, sparkling water for years to come.

The Latest Wrinkles.

And you can't possibly invest Ten Dollars to better advantage than in one of those excellent coats. For the convenience of passers-by we have placed in our corner Broadway window a goodly number of the Coats mentioned above.

F. W. HUMPHREY & CO.
Broadway and Pine.

MUSIC.

A choice place to every want advertiser in THE SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH.

See description of our offer for next Sunday.

SWOPE'S

SWOPE'S

SWOPE'S

SWOPE'S

SWOPE'S

SWOPE'S

SWOPE'S

SWOPE'S

SWOPE'S

SWOPE'S